DAY TRIPS

DESENZANO DEL GARDA

Desenzano del Garda, the capital of Lake Garda. This charming little town is said to be Lake Garda's hidden gem, but as the years have passed, Desenzano has become incredibly renowned and visited by tourists from all over the world. Here you can walk among the monuments and remains from Roman times, such as spending days in the many shopping malls that have been built up over the years.

The balmy evenings invite you to enjoy a glass of wine at one of the many cafes around the square, or stroll along the promenade and enjoy the spectacular views of the lake and mountain peaks.

SIRMIONE

Sirmione is one of the prettiest Lake Garda destinations. Set on a peninsula jutting into the lake, and beloved by writers and poets from Catullus to Tennyson and Joyce, Sirmione has that kind of Mediterranean atmosphere that will make you want to stay longer and longer.

History buffs will love Catullus family villa, so engulfed by the wilderness that it was once believed to be a complex of caves. Another sight that shouldn't be missed is the Scaliger Castle, right on the lakeside, looking like a fairytale manor with its turrets and battlements.

SALÒ

After Desenzano del Garda, Salò is the second-largest town on the Lombardia shore of Lake Garda, famous for having been the headquarters of the Repubblica Sociale, the seat of the Fascist government at the end of World War II.

It's worth a visit for its lakeside promenade, the longest in the entire Garda area, and for its 15th century Duomo di Sant'Annunziata, whose architecture is a hybrid between Gothic and Renaissance styles.

GARDONE RIVIERA

Literati and lovers of quirky sights will enjoy visiting the Vittoriale, poet D'Annunzio's whimsical villa on the shores of Lake Garda, near Gardone Riviera on the western shore of the lake, just north of Salò.

The craziest thing to do on Lake Garda, though, has to be visiting military ship Puglia, lying on top of a hill among the trees in the gardens of the Vittoriale. It was donated to D'Annunzio, who had it taken apart and carried to his residence where it was reassembled on a hill, pointed symbolically towards the Adriatic sea.

LIMONE SUL GARDA

The secret of why Limone sul Garda is so special is in its name – its mild climate made it the ideal location to grow lemon trees, and all throughout the 19th century the town was surrounded by lemon groves. Nowadays, tourism is a much more important revenue source than lemon products, but you can still see lemon trees growing on terraces on the steep hillside just behind the town.

RIVA DEL GARDA

Lake Garda is so large, it changes dramatically from north to south. The southern shores are pretty and genteel, beloved by poets and writers throughout history, with beautiful villas and a quiet atmosphere. The northern shores become wilder as you move further into the Alps.

Riva del Garda is the largest and most famous town in the northern part of the lake, and it is also the ideal base for Garda-Trek, three loop trails of various length between lake and mountains. It is also close to some wonderful mountain bike trails of various length and difficulty, and it is also possible to do some pretty cool lake dives.

The historic centre of Riva del Garda is full of sights and attractions to enjoy on a rainy day like the MAG – Museo Alto Garda and Torre Apponale.

MALCESINE

An unforgettable daytrip – take the cable car all the way to the top of Monte Altissimo, the tallest peak overlooking Lake Garda, where it's possible to hike, enjoy a wonderful meal at the Rifugio Altissimo/Damiano Chiesa, or just take in the stunning views.

The cable car climbs over 1500 meters so the weather can be dramatically different – when we visited, it was sunny and warm in Malcesine on the lake shore, but it was chilly and windy at the cable car's top station.

Near Malcesine you'll also find the picturesque village of Cassone, home to the Aril River, the 'world's shortest river' at only 175 meters long, and the spectacular Val di Sogno, a clear, secluded bay a short distance away from the city, where you'll also find a pretty island and a wreck that divers can explore.

The best known sight in Malcesine is the Castello Scaligero, definitely one of the best things to do in Lake Garda for families. The castle is very well preserved and it includes the recently-renewed Museo di Storia Naturale (Natural History Museum), with lots of hands-on activities for little ones. It is also possible to explore the castle's rooms, passageways and tunnels, and climb up to the tower.

BARDOLINO

Wine lovers will definitely have the chance to taste Bardolino, the signature wine of the Garda region. The best wine tasting region is between the towns of Lazise and Bardolino on the Eastern shore – a wine-tasting day is a great idea, spent visiting cellar doors and tasting delicious Bardolino and Chiaretto, a local rosé variety.

Bardolino was already famous for its wine in Roman times, so it is no surprise that many activities in and around Bardolino are actually wine-related – there are dozens of wineries offering wine tastings at the cellar door, you can go on a wine tour by bicycle, join a combo wine tasting and village tour, or even visit a ‘wine museum’!

If you’re a die hard wine lover, try to visit Bardolino for the yearly ‘Festa dell’Uva’ harvest festival in late September/early October, or the ‘Palio del Chiaretto’, dedicated to rosé wine. Both festivals feature concerts, street food, firework displays and naturally lots and lots of wine!

PESCHIERA DEL GARDA

Peschiera del Garda is the largest town on the Veneto side of the lake, and a transport hub due to the presence of the railway station and of the motorway. For this reason, it may feel less 'quaint' than other places like Garda, Malcesine or even Riva del Garda to the north.

The town extends between the shore of Lake Garda and the river Mincio, connecting the lake to the Po river further south. The historic centre of Peschiera del Garda is surrounded by the pentagonal walls of the Fortress, one of the four fortresses protecting the Habsburg Empire, connected to the rest of the city by a pedestrian bridge.

Peschiera offers many more sights besides the famous Fortress, and visiting is definitely one of the best things to do in Lake Garda. There are wonderful beaches including Braccobaldo Bau, one of the few Lake Garda beaches to accept dogs, the opportunity to go on boat tours to other Lake Garda towns like Riva, Desenzano, Salò, Sirmione and Lazise.

And naturally... Gardaland is just next door!
